Isn't there something more golden than the almighty dollar? Can't the makers of trusts, who combine merely to rob the people, see the error of their ways? If a few men are amassing thousands here and there every week, are they honest? Is Portsmouth getting a square deal? Think! Think! The Herald will try and point out some facts in this connection.

SEC. DANIELS WELCOMED AT HAWAII

Honolulu, Aug. 21.—Hawaii welcomed Secretary of the Navy Daniels and his party and the officers and men of the dreadnaught New York which arrived here today. ## Yanks Shoot Up Mexican Bandits--Food Investigations Will Land Victims in Jail--President Weakens Peace Controversy

(By Associated Press)
Copenhagen, Aug. 21.—Collisions occurred between German and American sailors on Tuesday at Neufahrwasser and resulted in the wounding of several civilians and one German seaman according to dispatches received here today. Neufahrwasser is a sea port four miles north of Danzig. The disorders grew out of a quarrel arising in a dance hall Monday night. Americans involved in the disturbance which was continued on the streets after the sailors left the dance hall, returned to their ship, the American destroyer Hale. On Tuesday morning on leave from the German cruiser Frankfurt came to blows with American sailors and it is said civilians also attacked the Americans. The Americans supported by French seamen from the French destroyer Claymore charged the crowd. Shots were said to have been fired from the Claymore wounding four Germans slightly. Frontier guards who were called out, dispersed the crowd and the Americans and French returned to their ships.

Maria, Texas, Aug. 21.—One bandit was believed to have been killed and two others made prisoners since American troops crossed the Rio Grande into Texas Tuesday morning. A report received here last night told of an American cavalry sergeant who rode to the border after dark and reported that Capt. Matlack of the 5th Cavalry had captured two bandits believed to have been implicated in the capture of Aviators Peterson and Davis. Neither man was Renteria, the bandit leader, he said. One Mexican was killed on Tuesday when American aviators returned their fire when they saw three bandits near the border, one of whom was seen to fall with his horse. The American troops slept last night on the trails of the bandits after losing them Tuesday after the rain, picking up the trails again yesterday. Gen. Pruned with approximately 250 Carranza Cavalry troops camped for the night near Parado. They left Ojinaga last night to take the field in pursuit of the bandits. American pack trains and other units crossed and re-crossed the path of the Carranza troops without friction according to reports.

Washington, Aug. 21.—President Wilson has not the power of declaring peace by proclamation nor could he consent in any circumstances to take such a course prior to the ratification of a formal treaty of peace by the Senate. The President so wrote Senator Fall today in answer to one of the twenty written questions the Senator presented at the White House Conference on Tuesday. Replying to another question, the President said, the provision of the treaty that it should come into force after ratification by Germany and three of the principal associated powers operated merely to establish peace between those ratifying powers and that it was "questionable whether it can be said that the League of Nations is in any true sense created by the association of only three of the allied and associated governments." As to the question of when normal conditions might be restored the President said he could only express the confident opinion that immediate ratification of the treaty and acceptance of the covenant of the League as written would "certainly within the near future reduce the cost of living" both in this country and abroad, through the restoration of production and commerce to normal. To Senator Fall's question relating to the disposition of Germany's possessions, the President said the arrangement in the treaty conveyed no title to the allied or associated powers but mere "disinterested disposition of the territory in question to their decision." Germany's renunciation in favor of the principal and associated powers, the President continued, "of her rights and titles to her overseas possessions is meant similarly to operate with respect to their final disposition and government."

300 OFFICERS RESIGN FROM THE NAVY

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 21.—With the resignations of more than 300 permanent officers of the regular navy already submitted to the Navy department and more arriving daily, Acting Secretary Roosevelt began work on proposed legislation to be submitted to Congress suggesting pay increases for officers and enlisted men of the navy and marine corps. Present pay tables became effective in 1908 and have not been revised since, although civilian pay has increased substantially in almost every branch of work.

MASKED MEN HOLD UP TRAIN

(By Associated Press)
Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 21.—Masked bandits held up a Louisville and Nashville passenger train from Cincinnati to Montgomery, Alabama, between Columbia and Pulaski early today and carried off the mail pouches. None of the passengers were molested. The robbers, four in number, forced the engineer to cut off the mail car and run some distance with it. Covering the crew, the robbers sent the engine running wild and rifled the mail car. The amount of loot could not be determined.

COMMISSIONER CURTIS TO TAKE ACTION

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Aug. 21.—With a policeman's union permanently organized and its officers installed in spite of his prohibited orders, Police Commissioner Curtis was today expected to take action in connection with his announcement that those who joined the union would be liable to discharge or suspension for violation of the Department rules. It was stated that the union which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has between 1900 and 1400 members. The policeman of this city number approximately 1500. The union has not made any demands of any kind as yet, officers said. The question involved at present is their right to organize, the commissioner maintaining that they are public officials, rather than employees and membership in a union is not compatible with their duties to the people.

Think! At the close of the war, building materials, excluding steel, had risen only 51 per cent over the pre-war prices of 1913. Other commodities had risen 113 per cent.

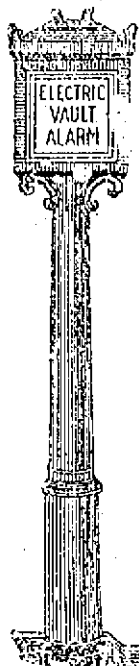

In COMPARISON with present wages, and with prices on other things, building materials are actually lower today than before the war! Don't wait for the "building boom"—it may bring with it an advance in prices. The WISE man will build now—and for his building materials he will go to

WOULD PROBE FRUIT PRICES

Washington, Aug. 21.—Congressman John P. Fitzgerald called upon Attorney General Palmer yesterday to urge that the Department of Justice inquire into the profits of the United Fruit Company in connection with its probe into the causes for the high cost of living. Mr. Fitzgerald said that he received assurances from the office of the attorney-general that such an investigation would be conducted. He pointed out that bananas formerly were purchased at 15 cents a dozen, and that they now cost from 40 cents a dozen upward. Mr. Fitzgerald said that the surplus profits of the United Fruit Company had increased in three years from $14,000,000 to $36,000,000.

QUIMET DEFEATED EVANS

(By Associated Press)

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Francis Quimet of Boston defeated "Chick" Evans of Chicago, the hold-over national amateur golf champion, today over the Oakland course, one up in 36 holes. It was one of the greatest matches ever played in the national championship. The defeat of Evans came after hours of playing, which was close from the beginning to the last put. They ended all even at the eighteenth hole and they renewed the battle in the afternoon. It appeared at the beginning as though Quimet was going to finish Evans early in the match, but at the end of the third nine he weakened and Evans was quick to grasp the opportunity. From three down Evans squared the match at the 34th hole.

The gallery, which was the largest mid-week crowd which has ever followed a golf match, were silent when both after halving the thirty-fifth hole in three teed up for their last hole. Evans drove a pretty ball down the fairway and Quimet followed suit. Quimet's second landed in a deep pit to one side of the green, while Evans was in the edge of the rough 40 feet from the pin. Quimet disappeared from the sight of the spectators as he stepped down into the pit, but a great burst of applause broke out when out from a cloud of sand the ball rolled, to within three feet of the pin. Evans was strong on his mangle and rolled twelve feet beyond the pin. He failed to get up on his put and Quimet tapped his ball, which hung on the lip of the cup and then dropped in. It was the "nearest golf match ever played in a national championship with one hole and one stroke difference in thirty-six holes.

PERSHING SAYS BODIES SHOULD STAY IN FRANCE

Washington, Aug. 20.—General Pershing, in a cablegram to the War Department, has expressed the opinion that the bodies of American soldiers who died abroad should be left near where they fell. "I believe that, could these soldiers speak for themselves, they would wish to be left undisturbed, where, with their comrades, they fought the last fight," General Pershing said. "The graves of our soldiers constitute, if they are allowed to remain, a perpetual reminder to our Allies of the liberty and ideals upon which the greatness of America rests. I recommend that none of our dead be removed from Europe unless their nearest of kin so demand after a full understanding of all the sentimental reasons against such removal, and further recommend that immediate steps be taken for permanently improving and beautifying our cemeteries."

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain "Phospho-Phosphate" Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the blood and the consequent deficiency of this element in the body are very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin; a noted author and professor in the book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "that the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of the pure phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as "Phospho-Phosphate." Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphate content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature, produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon regains its vigor, grace and alert angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

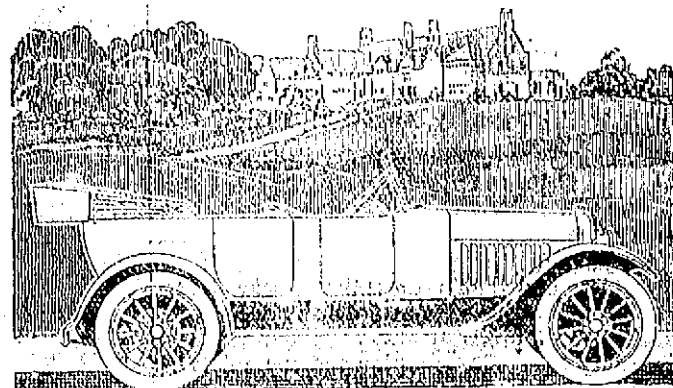

CAUTION:—While "Phospho-Phosphate" is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who are desirous to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

A HOT SPOT Chalmers Never Says "No"

YOU never hear a groan or a whimper of complaint from this present day Chalmers.

It does what you ask of it. It takes a command like a willing servant and responds like a thoroughbred.

And it wears well; not only in its "inner works," but in a way that you never grow tired of.

(So many persons want a new car every other year!) The more it runs, the gentler, the easier it seems to get over ground.

You will find the underlying cause in Hot Spot and Rain-horn, two devices which have advanced Chalmers two years ahead of other cars in engineering.

They "crack up" and condition the raw gas in a way that produces terrific power with pussy-like gentleness. You obtain a brand new sense of driving ease, and when you want to "let loose" in a quagmire road or on a tortuous hill your Chalmers never says "No."

You'll find it to be, as so many others have discovered in recent months, one of the few great cars of the world.

Boston, Aug. 20.—More than two scores of wholesalers who have butter, cheese, and eggs in the Quincy Market cold storage, were heard by the Federal Grand Jury today in their investigation of the high cost of living. The Armour representatives were questioned as to the storage they have. The Department of Justice men report that they have found 60,000 eggs in a cold storage in a New Hampshire city.

A Delicate Question.

The question whether a legislator should be governed in his actions by his own judgment or by the known wishes of his constituents when these and their representative take different views on a public matter has always been one of interest, and one on which there will probably always be differences of opinion. It is in reality a very fine question and one not to be disposed of off-hand.

In the broad sense legislators are supposed to carry out the wishes of those who elect them to office, so far as these can be clearly ascertained, but there are times when the electorate may not understand a specific question as well as does the man who is dealing with it as the people's representative, and there may be a popular demand which the legislator knows it would be harmful to bow to. In such a case it must be no easy task for a public official to decide upon the course he shall take.

A case of this kind has lately arisen in Missouri, whose state Democratic Committee called upon Senator Reed to support the League of Nations. To be sure, Mr. Reed is not in the Senate to represent the State Democratic Committee, which makes the case somewhat different from what it would be if the demand had been made by the people of the state, and yet the general principle involved is the same. Senator Reed's personal views and convictions are such that he cannot support the League as it stands, and he elects to act upon his own judgment rather than obey the dictate of the people he has heard from at home. Such a situation has arisen many times in the history of the country, as is perfectly natural and unavoidable under such a government as ours. A conspicuous case was that of John Quincy Adams who, when as a senator from Massachusetts he was asked by the Legislature to act counter to his own convictions, immediately resigned, being unwilling to vote against the wishes of his state, as manifested through the Legislature, or against his own judgment and convictions.

A prominent newspaper in commenting on this subject says the problem is one that will have to be settled, and settled soon. But this is much easier said than done. While it is true that legislators should give attentive hearing to the wishes of their constituents, as they are very apt to do, it is also true that legislators should give attentive hearing to the wishes of their constituents, as they are very apt to do, it is also true that there are times when they are in a position to judge of the right course to pursue better than the folks at home, who may be acting on impulse and an insufficient knowledge of all the facts.

This is a question which cannot be settled definitely one way or the other. Public officials and the people who elect them must use judgment and each must make allowance for the views of the other. In the main, legislators will be only too ready to respect and conform to the wishes of the people they represent, but there are times when if they are to do their duty to the best of their ability they must be governed by their own judgment and consciences, even though they may suffer temporarily through being misunderstood. In the long run their motives will be clear and their action honored.

No cast-iron rule will do for cases of this kind. It is the duty of representatives to represent, and they sometimes do this best when they base their action on their own judgment and first-hand knowledge of the matters at issue.

The coming annual convention of the New Hampshire Manufacturers' Association, which is to be held in this city early in September, will be an event of much interest to the people here. There will be an elaborate and interesting program, including the launching of a ship by the Atlantic Corporation; a banquet and addresses by able speakers. Portsmouth will extend a most cordial welcome to the important gathering.

The Old Home Week season is in full swing in New Hampshire and many happy reunions are taking place in different parts of the state. These gatherings of former residents with those who have "kept the home fires burning" are very pleasant affairs and there cannot be too many of them.

The cold storage men of the West are having their troubles as a result of the raid on the high cost of living, and it is to be hoped the action that is being taken may relieve other people of some of their troubles, which, rightly or wrongly, are attributed to food hoarders and speculators.

The Alaska Packer's Company says the season's salmon catch is the poorest in the company's history. Get ready to pay more for salmon. Also don't forget that news of the doings in this country has apparently reached far-off Alaska.

The Salvation Army is preparing to give the poor children of the city a day's outing. This is a most commendable enterprise, and any assistance which may be given by those in sympathy with such work will be aid worthily bestowed.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Little Brother of the Poor.

(From the Springfield Union)
 Almost everybody in the country will appreciate how Henry Ford feels going out to buy groceries or anything else is much like going after a million dollars and coming home with six cents.

Now Is the Time.

(From the Minneapolis Journal)
 The Government was never in better shape to settle the Mexican question for good and all than it is now. It has seasoned troops in plenty, war material galore and invaluable experience in strategy and manoeuvres.

Accessory Before the Fact.

(From the San Francisco Chronicle)
 The mind of a man who will take a child up in an airplane is past fathoming. Given persons may take such risks if they choose, they are presumed to be capable of judging the chances. But a child is not, and he who puts one in a position of danger is assuming a tremendous responsibility.

Coal Enough Somewhere.

(From the Philadelphia Record)
 We've been scared about a good many things, among them anthracite. We have heard much of the decreased production of coal, which probably relates to blunders, a matter of concern to industrial interests, but not to those in this part of the country. The statement issued by the Anthracite Bureau of Information is that production of coal, stove and egg coal in the four months following April 1 has been 15 per cent in excess of 1918, the last normal year in the American coal trade. The gain in shipments this year over three years ago has been nearly 2,000,000 tons, and the statement says: "In view of these facts talk of an existing coal shortage or production of one to come out of place, so far as domestic sizes of anthracite are concerned."

An Unwholesome Situation.

(From Chicago Evening Post)
 Partisan prejudice against the President's course at Paris led by his attitude. Single-minded thought for America and the world would have led the President to do all in his power to remove prejudice, certainly to avoid exciting for it. He has taken the contrary course. The result is that we get further and further from reasonable and dispassionate consideration of the treaty, and questions of trans-Atlantic moment to America and mankind are in danger of being decided on a basis of personal antipathies, party politics and international distrust.

Eyes on Massachusetts.

(From New Haven Journal-Courier)
 Massachusetts is indulging in a dispute which pretty well illustrates the redoubtable absurdity of the blue-law order of legislation. We take it that on the one side are the stout guardians of the law that be, while on the other are the golfers who don't see any good reason why they shouldn't be permitted to take care of themselves on Sunday according to the same reasonable self-imposed restrictions which serve throughout the rest of the week. The delightfully ridiculous argument appears to be over exactly what constitutes indulging in sports on the Sabbath. Here recently was an inoffensive youth who with some difficulty managed to "knock out flies" to himself without the customary assistance of at least one fellow-sportsman. A Worcester County judge found the young man guilty of violating the Sunday law and visited the penalty for that violation upon him. Now the nice question is raised of whether a man who is playing golf by himself on Sunday is violating the law. Not a great while ago a Middlesex County Judge ruled that driving a ball around a course on Sunday without competition was not the equivalent of engaging in a game and was therefore not a violation of the quiet laws of the State. But there is the knowledge that taking out and ball in hand and knocking 'em out is all wrong, and naturally the sport lovers of Massachusetts, to whose shores our forefathers fled from oppression, are on pins and needles. One cannot help but wonder how much progress would be made in carrying his sort of thing to its logical conclusion. From the prying eye of such laws as life is constituted today, nothing would be safe, not even the subtle sport of watching for the extra junk of Sunday cake. These must be stirring times in historic Massachusetts.

Daylight Saving Darkened.

(From the Boston Transcript)
 The belligerence of a militant opposition, well organized for its own particular ends, has sufficed to cause the house to insist, by more than the necessary vote of two to one, on repeal of the daylight saving law despite the President's veto. Unless the Senate can calm thinkers enough in its membership to refuse to give the repeal bill a like two-thirds vote in the upper chamber of Congress, then daylight saving will come to an end on the last day of October, not to be renewed next summer. An exhibition will have been given the country how easy it is for a champion minority, knowing its own mind and fighting for its own convenience, to override the interests of a large majority of the nation's people when that majority fails to take any vigorous action for its own protection. A group of stubborn farmers, acting for their own comfort, will have made their demands prevail against the health of the nation's vast army of city dwellers.

And if this result comes to pass, will his be the end of the matter? Certainly it should not be. The friends of daylight saving should at once set about a national campaign, designed to educate the people not merely to a definite understanding of the law's merits—for they have that already—but also to a willingness to make a real fight for its restoration.

An Irresponsible Congress.

(From the Washington Star)
 To a degree, the Republicans are responsible on Capitol Hill. They control both houses of Congress. The initiative is theirs. If things go well they get the praise; if ill, the blame. And next year comes the accounting to the people. The record will be closely examined during a hot campaign for any material it may afford in an effort to retire the Republican party in favor of the Democratic party. And yet the Democrats are not without a share of responsibility. They, too, should stay on the job, manifesting themselves in opposition to the opposition, and in advocacy of what they think the situation calls for in the way of legislation. Reconstruction is at hand; and they must help reconstruct. It is a large order, and cannot be tackled too soon, or pushed too steadily or earnestly. Every roll call should show, not only a quorum, but an attendance in both houses testifying by its size to a keen appreciation of the duty of the hour.

Variable Climate Best.

A variable climate has a stimulating effect upon health and is, in general, much more healthful than a uniform climate, even though the uniform climate has an ideal temperature. A rise in temperature may occur without a proportionate rise in the relative humidity, and in either case is said to have a harmful effect on health. The climatic groups showing the lowest death rates are those where the temperature averages about 64 degrees Fahrenheit, and the thermometer falls to about 55 degrees or 60 degrees at night and rises not much above 70 degrees at noon. Accompanying this ideal of temperature there should be a humidity that will average about 80 per cent for day and night together, falling or rising with the temperature.

No Room for Idlers.

The idler is to society what the drone is to the hive. Civilization hinders men from giving them the treatment accorded to drones, but I'm not sure that future peoples will deal so leniently with clogs to progress. The systematic idler deteriorates and degenerates. The coddling system robs man of vision, industry and life's wholesome rewards. Life purposes can't grow without incentives. These are associated with life and its joys. They challenge and draw forth the best that is in you. Other motives are insignificant in comparison. The drone on the other hand does nothing that is constructive. He saps the honey but adds nothing to the welfare of the hive.—Pennsylvania Girl.

Fatigue Cause of Accidents.

A man who makes too many motions in performing his work, or who takes extra steps which might be eliminated from his task, who moves more weight than is really necessary in handling materials, or otherwise does extra labor that tires him, may be creating in himself a physical or nervous tension and strain which some day will precipitate an accident. Perhaps it will be the loss of a finger, loss of a limb, or a loss of eyesight. It may be a trivial hurt, or it may be a fatal accident. The circumstances of the moment that cause the accident would not occur, except for the fatigue induced by unnecessary movements in performing work.—Exchange.

MEXICO PROTESTS OUR SOLDIERS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 21.—The Mexican Ambassador here has been instructed by his government to protest to the State Department against the despatch of American troops across the border and to request their withdrawal, according to a statement issued at Mexico City yesterday. The statement as received here today said: "Two officers of the army of the United States through error so that state, flew over our territory landing 112 kilometers to the south of the frontier where they were captured by a band of 20 bandits. They have now been liberated. Some troops of the 8th cavalry of the United States crossed the border in pursuit of the outlaws. The Department of Foreign Relations gave instructions at once to our embassy in Washington to make appropriate representations protesting and requesting the immediate withdrawal of the invading troops." It was said at the State department today that no protest had been made by Ambassador Bonhues.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Hit Clerical Force

There is considerable feeling over the recent order of the navy department which directs a big reduction of the clerical force at the Charlestown navy yard, both male and female. The order affects those recently appointed to civil service positions, mostly from the yeoman class. The reason given for the order is the lack of funds.

Going to Do Some Dancing.

A large delegation of yard residents and enlisted force are planning to enjoy the novelty of the Black Dance in this city tonight.

About 75 Left.

Concord, Aug. 20.—William B. Ellsworth, superintendent of masons for the Hutchinson Building Company, is in the dangerous list at the Margaret Pillsbury hospital as the result of a collision of motor trucks on the St. Paul's School road today. It is thought the accident was due to a defect in the steering gear of Mr. Ellsworth's machine. The other truck is the property of the Swarthmore, Penn., Chautauqua Circuit.

WASH YOUR FRUIT

There should not have been needed the warning of the Board of Health to make people wash the fruit that they buy from city dealers—or country dealers, either, for that matter. The articles on the stands and in the markets are usually exposed to dust of all brands and are pawed over by men whose hands cannot, in the very nature of things, be always clean.

But the health department advises the washing of all fruit mainly because some of it is coated with arsenical solution used by the growers for spraying. That should be sufficient to induce all housewives to use plenty of water on the fruit and generally pare it before eating it or giving it to the children. And there are plenty of other reasons as well.

Wash all your fruit. It costs nothing and may save a life or a big doctor's bill.—Boston Post.

SOLDIER AND SAILOR ARE TAKEN FOR NASHUA BREAK

Nashua, Aug. 20.—John Brown, alias John Bolley, a sailor, and Anthony Stecock, a soldier, were brought to the police station today by the Hollis chief of police, William Sanders. The men were charged with breaking and entering the house of C. A. Colburn in Hollis. They will be arraigned tomorrow.

Brown claimed to be 16 years old, but his navy papers showed him to be 18. The pair were seen entering the house by a little girl. Chief Sanders formed a posse and captured the men. They were searched and old-fashioned jewelry, a Liberty bond and a pair of field glasses were found in their possession.

The Mongols.

The "Mongols, Tartars or Huns" are now generally held to belong to neither "the Semite, Hamite or Aryan races." The latest authorities divide the inhabitants of the world into the Ethiope, Mongole and Caucasian groups. Central and North Asia, the Balkans, parts of Russia, Tibet, China, Japan, Finland, Lapland, Siberia, Hungary, the Malay peninsula, Madagascar, Philippines, are all peopled by Mongols to which family are also ascribed the North American Indians and the Eskimo. ## ATTACKS GOVERNMENT CONTROL

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 21.—Attacks on the governmental tendency toward assumed control of business enterprises with special reference to proposed legislation for the supervision of the packing industry was made today by Senator Fernald of Maine, speaking in the Senate. Stamping the Kenyon and Kendrick bills vehicles of the packer regulation now under discussion as samples of "stifling, throttling legislation," he declared his opposition to them. He said they were extensions of the policy which had failed in the transportation and communication industries and predicted that the public would suffer from higher costs and poorer service should they be enacted. "I cannot believe the Senate of the United States feels after the experience we have had with government control of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines that the policy should be continued," Senator Fernald said. "It would certainly lead to chaos and commercial bankruptcy." Defending the packers, Senator Fernald said their business had to be conducted in large units in order to be economical. Their development of the refrigerator cars and ownership of stock yards like their utilization of animal by-products, constituted valuable service. He attacked the Federal Trade Commission for "questionable methods" in its investigation and reports on the packers and said that it had largely lost sight of its function to aid and guide business. Complaints of wholesale grocers that the packers were "entering their field in the sale of perishable goods, he classed as unjustified with the remark that the same complaint might be made against the grocers for handling drugs, hardware and other goods out of their lines.

DOCTORS URGED TO REPORT COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

A circular letter to physicians was sent out Wednesday in Boston by Dr. Victor Safford, acting health commissioner, and a former Kittery boy, requesting them to report promptly all cases of communicable diseases, including the newly reportable ones of influenza and lobar pneumonia. The letter says in part:
"This year, the tendency to economize in the matter of food, the disturbed conditions of local transportation, the return of soldiers from service abroad, the expected recurrence of influenza make efforts to protect the public health of more than ordinary importance."

ARCANUM ENTERTAINS ENLISTED MEN

The Alpha Council, Royal Arcanum, and the Major Waldron Council of Dover, were the hosts on Wednesday evening to the returning soldiers who were the guests of the members. The reception, Deputy Supreme Regent E. D. Smith Smith of Dover was present and is to remain in this city until the first of the month.

Returning service men affiliated with the order and their friends to the number of one hundred were entertained Wednesday evening, the social including music and refreshments and all present much enjoyed the occasion.

Alpha Council held one of the largest and best meetings in its history Wednesday evening, it being a get together meeting and the Council having as special guests Major Waldron Council of Dover; also Brother John H. Hogan of Lowell, Mass., of the Supreme Committee on Law of the order.

During the evening a large class was initiated. Alpha Council is apparently entering on a new era of progressiveness and great things are predicted for the order the coming year.

AMOSKEAG DEFEAT THE ATLANTIC

Win Good Game in the Last Inning By Hitting Fisher—Atlantic in Lead All Through the Game

The Amoskeag baseball team of Manchester, took the deciding game from the Atlantic at the playgrounds on Wednesday evening, winning the game in the last inning, when the mill men landed on Fisher for four singles and with an error on the part of Meekhan in right scored four runs.

There was a big crowd in attendance and the game was interesting, but mostly played in spots. The game started at six o'clock and eight innings were played before the umpire called a halt on account of darkness.

The Manchester team are a fighting bunch of players and they fought an uphill fight until the last of the eighth when they came through with the necessary punch to put over the win. Fisher was in the box for the Atlantic and he did very well until the eighth, although inclined to be a bit untidy. Two passes, a passed ball and two easily errors in the third gave the visitors three runs and he held them to this until the eighth, when they scored four runs and Moran was rushed to the box, but too late to save the day. Other than the third inning he got good support.

Fisher pitched for the Amoskeag and in the third the locals caught him for a triple, a double and two singles, which with a couple of errors gave them their five runs. He tightened up after that and nobody reached first until the seventh when they got two men on but failed to get them across. His team gave him good support, Delger getting five out in center. Durgan made the catch of the game after a long run after Reynolds' long hit in the second.

The Atlantic were the first to score in the third. Durgan was safe on Lohby's error and he scored when Conlon hit for two bases. W. Brackett fled to Laborer. Swaney walked and Cunningham hit for three bases, scoring two runs and he scored on J. Robertson's single. H. Robertson fled to left, Meekhan singled to right and Jennings fumbled it so that J. Robertson scored. Fisher struck out. Five runs. They failed to get on until the seventh. Durgan was safe on Reynolds' error and got as far as third on Swaney's single, but he died there.

The Amoskeag scored three runs in the third. Jennings walked and went to second on a passed ball, Cunningham fled to Swaney, Laborer walked, but was forced at second, Lohby's grounder to Conlon, Jennings going to third, Bill Brackett failed to handle a throw and the score. Fisher hit to Conlon who let the ball get away and he went around to home.

In the eighth the visitors got over four runs. Lohby singled, Fisher did the same; a passed ball advanced them and they both scored on Bernard's single; St. Angles walked, Reynolds hit to right and Meekhan dropped the ball and Bernard scored, but Meekhan caught St. Angles off second. A single by Delger advanced Reynolds and they were sent in; he passed the next two men and Reynolds walked home.

BID NOT HISS WILSON'S NAME

Boston, Aug. 21.—The chairman of the mass meeting of Postal Workers, Joseph M. Cavanaugh, held in Faneuil Hall last Sunday, called a meeting of the presidents of the organizations under whose auspices the meeting was conducted for the purpose of issuing a statement denying that the name of President Wilson was hissed at the mass meeting. They have issued the following statement over their signatures:

"Several organizations which conducted a mass meeting of the postal employees held in Faneuil Hall on Sunday wish to emphatically deny that any hissing took place when the name of President Wilson was mentioned.

"The postal employees have demonstrated their intense loyalty and devotion to public service on every occasion, and feel very deeply grieved that any such statement should occur in any newspaper. The meeting closed with the enthusiastic singing of 'America,' with every person standing, and is desired that this error be corrected as far as possible."

"OPEN YOUR EYES."

Hailed by medical authorities, educators and social workers everywhere as one of the greatest productions of the kind ever made, "Open Your Eyes," the flaming dramatic "Thunderbolt" prepared under the supervision of the United States Public Health Service as part of a campaign "in behalf of a clean nation and a country made safe for posterity," now showing at the Colonial for an engagement of three days more. In a word, the purpose of the film is to show parents the necessity of acquainting their children with all-important facts of life; to prove that reticence, prudery and false modesty on their part invariably lead to disaster; in short, to prove in the words of one celebrated educator: "Silence is not golden. It is criminal!"

S. S. KISNOP NOW ON HER WAY TO PENSACOLA

Sailed at 9 O'Clock This Morning; First Cargo Will Be Cotton for Holland.

The 8800 cargo steamship Kisnop in command of Capt. F. W. Keene, got away from the North End docks at nine o'clock this morning on her maiden trip on the Atlantic. She steamed in fine style down the Piscataqua and farewells greetings from whistles of the several craft along the water front, which required the officer at the wheel to keep his hand on the whistle cord to respond long after she disappeared around Henderson's Point.

Everything on this initial product of the Atlantic Corporation worked perfect from stem to stern and the big freighter was a handsome sight as she left her berth and headed for the South. The shipyard employees had reason to feel proud as they watched the steamship move away. Many of the officials of the Atlantic Corporation were aboard previous to her departure to bid Capt. Keene and his crew Godspeed on their first journey.

The Kisnop will put in at Newport News for a supply of coal and proceed to Pensacola to load with a cargo of cotton for Holland. She carries a crew of nearly 50 men. Charles E. Reynolds is the chief engineer, a man of much experience in marine work. He holds from Connecticut. The commanding officer is a resident of Roseland, Mass.

BUY YOUR COAL NOW

Harry A. Garfield, U. S. Fuel Administrator, says: "Buy now—in August or the Autumn will be too late. A big coal shortage is coming. Thousands of miners are going back to Europe. Coal production has fallen off considerably and a shortage of many million tons looks probable. My advice to consumers is to buy NOW while they can get a selection and DELIVERY."

"I feel bound to say that, as I see the situation, we are likely to experience a coal famine in the Fall."

Walker T. Hines, Director Gen. of U. S. Railroad Administration, says: "Unless the consumer buys his coal this summer he is going to find it difficult to get it this Fall and Winter. I predict a shortage of cars because of resumption of business in general, with which the coal industry must share transportation facilities. There are plenty of cars today and consumers of coal are urged to use them while they can get them."
